

1.

2.

3.

4. The difference between the two plots is that the time to sum elements remains constant linear, while the time to sort elements begins with a steeper slope and then transitions to a less steep slope. Otherwise both are linear.